SMART URBAN MANAGEMENT

The city of the future will be digital, connected and sustainable.

Our proposal for cities starts off from a new way of imagining and conceiving the city as a whole: increasingly digital, interconnected, welcoming, accessible, clean, sustainable and green. And our proposal springs from many years of research together with our natural propensity to innovate and try out new technologies applied to services.

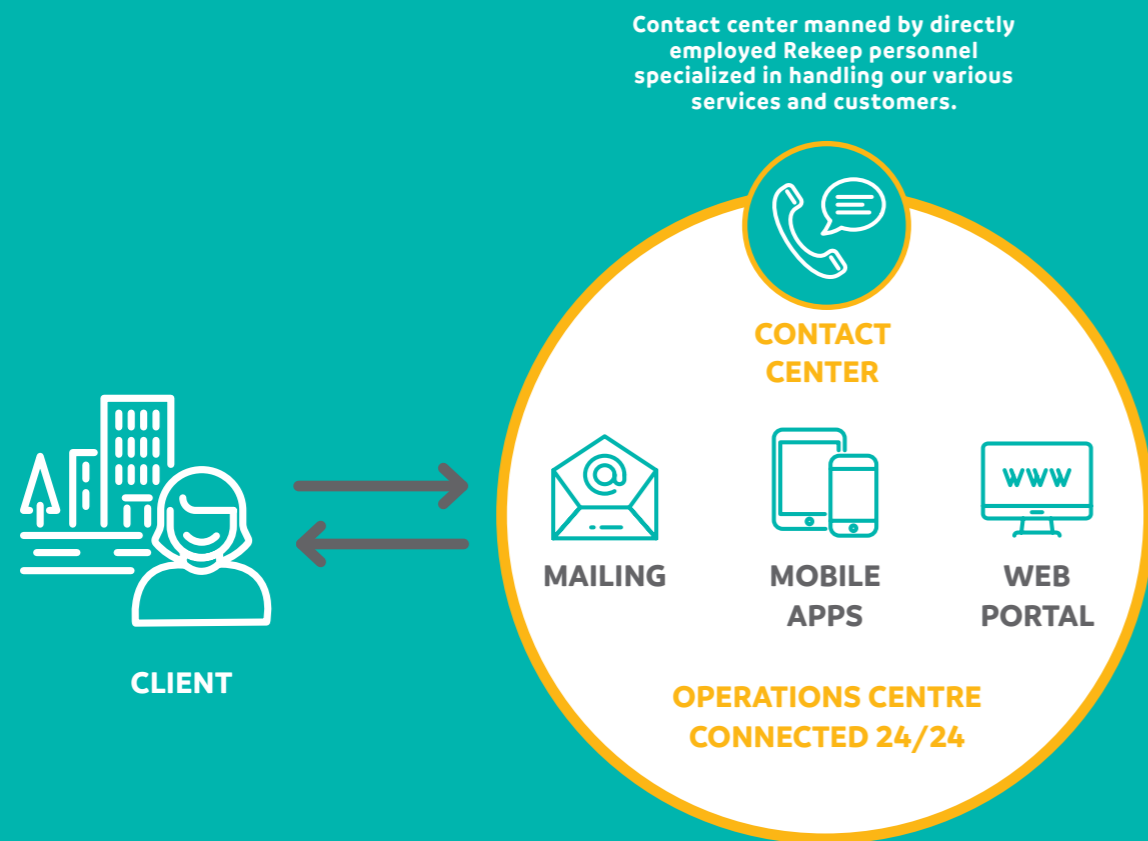

This is why we combine traditional maintenance work on roads, green areas and public lighting with the most sophisticated road traffic and sustainable mobility solutions, such as urban facility management and an advanced smart urban management platform.

Solutions designed for the smart cities of the future and for urban spaces more efficient and sustainable.

ORGANIZATION

A digitalized governance system.

With an advanced IT system - the "Resolve" platform, our organization's nerve centre and the heart of its operations - we run every phase in our services ensuring the traceability and monitoring of our activities and precious data so that managers and public administrators can make the best use of resources, enhance performance and give as much attention as possible to their core business.

Our best reference.

The level of a service is measured in the most critical and delicate conditions.

In the healthcare sector, unique in the very high requirements to be met, Rekeep is a leading player in Facility Management with over 500 healthcare customers including the main Italian hospitals.

Both in Italy and abroad Rekeep is also among the major operators in facility management for transport: a unique partner, able to provide any and all support services with a real intermodal approach, thanks to a well-established experience ranging from rail to air transport, in addition to metros, road transport and, last but not least, a deep know-how in urban facility management.
